

A History Lesson

usmnews.net has published some recent editorials and reports concerning plagiarism of the Southern Miss College of Business Academic Integrity Policy. A number of readers have requested citations to earlier reports discussing the matter.

For more articles and editorials on the subject, use the usmnews.net Google™ Custom Search box. In no particular order, usmnews.net provides links to a few of them:

Dear usmnews.net

"Without Proper Citation"

A Plagiarized Policy on Plagiarism

"Third Tier Thieves"

Integrity Policy Not Boilerplate, Says The Chronicle

They are Educators, Aren't They? The Curious Case of Provost Denis Weisenburg

It's your Academic Integrity Policy, Now

usmnews.net acknowledges that former-President Saunders did not copy or authorize copying of the documents. However, during her entire tenure, the plagiarized academic integrity policy remained posted on the Southern Miss website -- without any form of proper attribution.