

Dear Judith

Dear Judith,

Bob Lyman, Martha Saunders' former provost at USM, has to be laughing his bt off. He could educate you on Martha's lack of character. As the pressure on you intensifies (even though the Board of Trustees voted in your support), will Martha tell the news media and the BoT that she is "very, very, very saddened . . . that [her] employe[r]. . . has been caught up in" this serious issue. Will you find she is so desperate to be a University President that she will throw you, the person who hired her after she had been tossed out of USM's office of the president, under the bus?

Let's hope you figure out that Martha is on your side only when it is convenient for her. Right now, you are standing between her and being the president of a university.

Sincerely yours,
