Dear usmnews.net,

A couple of days ago, I got a copy of the new Southern Miss anti-smoking policy. I don't smoke, so I think it's a great idea. However, the question a lot of us in the CoB have is who's going to monitor Mary Anderson [associate professor of accounting] for compliance with the new policy?

Dear Name withheld, usmnews.net has received versions of this question from a number of CoB faculty. I suspect you will soon have an answer. Those of us at usmnews.net think the answer may come down to a question of whether some faculty are more equal than others.
