Dear usmnews.net,

Thanks for the report about Southern Miss' and [Donnie] Tyndall's inability to cheat without getting caught. As I recall, this is not the first time Southern Miss has been disciplined by the NCAA for misconduct. If students were caught cheating on this scale, we would give them due process and kick them out of school. Why should Southern Miss be treated any differently?

Dear name withheld,

Your memory is very good. I pulled a couple of reports about NCAA sanctions, including four years of probation for the tennis team.
