Dear usmnews.net,

One of the ongoing themes [at usmnews.net] is that things never really change at Southern Miss. No one seems to ever learn anything from the past.

Dear Name withheld,

My philosophy is that you can't learn unless you know the facts. For example, we don't even know why Martha Saunders was pushed out the presidential door. Everything is shrouded in secrecy. What isn't secret is hidden in public relations blather. As a consequence we never really know what is happening or why. Under these circumstances, nothing ever gets corrected.
