Dear usmnews.net,

I read the Hattiesburg American interview with [Athletic Director] McGillis. I have a lot of questions, but one seems to overlay the entire exchange. How incompetent is he [McGillis]? Take a look at this exchange [quoted from THA's interview with McGillis] and see if you don't have the same question.

Q. April 2012 was when the announcement was made that the athletic department had to borrow $1.2 million from the general fund to break even. Is there an update on that, that you might be able to share?

A. No. Because I have no idea what went on in April 2012, so I can't speak to that.

If you believe McGillis, he has no idea whether the $1.2 million borrowed from the general fund has ever been repaid. He doesn't know if a contributor stepped up to help out. Yet he claims that he manages a budget every day. With a seven figure debt on his books, don't you think he might have checked into paying it back?
