Dear usmnews.net,

The word around the water cooler is that enrollment is going to drop again in 2015-16. How much will the drop be? It's hard to say, but most of us think it's going to be bad. The whisper campaign is that with the February cutoff for scholarship applications looming, there may not be enough qualified applicants to fill the available scholarships. Don't be surprised if the deadline is extended and the [$35] application fee is waived.
