Dear usmnews.net,

I don't know why Russ Willis stepped down from a high level administrative job [Vice President for Administrative Affairs], but I'd be surprised if it was overwork as suggested during a recent Faculty Senate meeting. The reason I'd leave a job like that and take a sizeable pay cut is terror that I would be the next person Martha would throw under the bus. She hasn't been reluctant to do it from the very beginning of her presidency. If you think Willis would be paranoid to worry about tire tracks down his back, just ask Bob Lyman, Homer Coffman or Mike Herndon, to name only the three most recent bodies crushed courtesy of Martha Saunders.

Name withheld.
