

Dear usmnews.net

Dear usmnews.net,

Thanks for revisiting Southern Miss' history of mobbing. Word on campus is that the situation is worse now than it was in Saunders' darkest days. People have been subjected to very public verbal assaults (the proverbial "F-bomb"), huge amounts of turnover in some offices because of the abusive atmosphere, administrators fired for no reason and replaced with cronies, and on and on. If enrollment is down again this year (and, based on the previews, it looks like we are going to see at least some reduction in student population), we expect the situation to get a lot worse.

Name withheld by request

Dear Name withheld,

Various anonymous sources have reported much the same things, sometimes with considerable detail. Unfortunately, the reports are anonymous. As you know, usmnews.net does not publish until it is able to verify the information.