

Dear Skip . . .

Dear Skip:

In an economic crisis such as we are in, parents frequently push their children to the business school. Many of those parents also push their children to accounting because, as we all know, “there are always jobs for accountants.” So, why is enrollment down for accounting this fall? Is the School of Accounting finally reaping what it has so tirelessly sown for decades?

We wish you the best of luck with your program for change.
