“ALL ANIMALS ARE EQUAL
BUT SOME ANIMALS ARE MORE EQUAL THAN OTHERS”

Animal Farm* by George Orwell

Will Lee Gore be allowed to continue to practice law in Florida without a Florida license? Or is he “more equal” than other Florida non-attorneys? What responsibility do Provost Martha Saunders and President Bense have for allowing Gore to practice law without a license? Gore is their attorney and President Bense reviewed his experience and qualifications before hiring Gore. They know he doesn’t have a license to practice law in the State of Florida. Furthermore, Gore was Martha Saunders’ attorney for years at the University of Southern Mississippi. She knows.

Is there accountability for inept leadership? Or are some university administrators “more equal” than other university personnel? What do bungling administrators have to do to be held to the same standards they impose on subordinates?
