

GH Chatter

There has been some recent chatter about the departure of Melissa McIntyre leaving the accounting department. Word is that new ACC head Skip Hughes did not like McIntyre's choice of hairstyle. As one might expect, this type of buzz has prompted some CoBers to look into what LSUers might have to say about their old colleague Hughes.

CoB dean Lance Nail's absences from JAG have surely not gone unnoticed. They are, in fact, often a hot chatter subject. When the time comes for potential future employers to call on CoBers for evaluation of Nail, there is a good chance that his behavior will come back to bite him.

GH Chatter is a series at USMNEWS that provides a glimpse at what CoB students, and sometimes CoB faculty, are discussing throughout the corridors of Joseph Greene Hall and beyond.
