

GH Chatter

Word around JAG has it that David Duhon may have to relinquish his chairmanship of management and international business in the coming months. This is a title that Duhon has held (at least on an interim basis) for some time now. Another shake-up in the CoB will likely surprise few, if any, of its faculty/staff.

There is a bit of chatter these days about the latest issue of the CoB's magazine, Venture. It seems the spring of 2010 issue is dominated by stories on the new CoB Honors House. The only other thing sprinkled amongst these reports is a puff piece on new accounting director Skip Hughes. How much does this mag cost?

One of the loyal blocks of USMNEWS.net's readers is USM staff – in the CoB and beyond. GH Chatter sends a “shout out” to these loyal readers. Perhaps one day this series will expand to include more of what they have to offer.

Who will be left in ECO when that unit makes its grand debut in Arts & Letters? Deniz Gevrek left the CoB (surprisingly) in January of 2010. This week came the announcement that Sami Dakhliia will depart USM after this year. Newer chatter has it that Akbar Marvasti is now out on the job-hunt circuit as well. This could leave only Daniel Monchuk, who was only recently making his residence in China.

GH Chatter is a series at USMNEWS that provides a glimpse at what CoB students, and sometimes CoB faculty, are discussing throughout the corridors of Joseph Greene Hall and beyond.
