

GH Chatter

Current CoB Dean finalist Danny Arnold and the CoB's own Farhang Niroomand have apparently lost out on the Dean's job at the University of Arkansas at Fort Smith. Though both were finalists, word is that they lost out on the position to the third finalist, who is currently at Fort Hays State University. If Arnold is now selected to lead the CoB, you can bet the GH chatter will be all about how the CoB is settling for UA at Fort Smith's leftovers.

Some CoBers are discussing the latest signals from former CoB Dean Harold Doty. For one, it appears that Doty is teaching a full summer load this year. Do the Doty's need the cash? Seems so. Second, there is some indication that Doty is angling to supplant David Duhon as Chair of MGT & MKT for 2008-09. If so, and if successful, that move would serve two purposes for Doty: a higher salary (more cash) and a lower teaching load. Such a move might also be welcomed by Duhon, who would still hold the top spot in Tourism Management.

GH Chatter is a series at USMNEWS that provides a glimpse at what CoB students, and sometimes CoB faculty, are discussing throughout the corridors of Joseph Greene Hall and beyond.
