

GH Chatter

Speculation that the CoB's economics program is going to be cut is still just that – speculation – yet stories are circulating around JAG that one of ECO's faculty already has alternative employment secured for the 2010-11 academic year. If chatter like this is accurate, then this CoB economist behaved as advised by a USMNEWS.net op-ed contributor, and protected him/herself from the program-cutting storm to come. Interesting.

It was also interesting to hear recent chatter about the difficulties being had by some former CoBers who are still trying to sell their Oak Grove homes. This is going to be a problem for a number of USM faculty this year (2009-10), and that story is surely going to be followed by The Hattiesburg American and other local media.

GH Chatter is a series at USMNEWS that provides a glimpse at what CoB students, and sometimes CoB faculty, are discussing throughout the corridors of Joseph Greene Hall and beyond.
