Reports coming into usmnews.net suggest that an effort is underway to build a case against Sonia Gaines-Littles, the CoB second-in-command, and this effort has its origins across campus. No one would be surprised if such an effort came from within the CoB since Sonia has ruffled many feathers and continues to do so. Talk in the halls is, she spewed her venom across campus on or near someone who does not have to take it and does not report to Dean Lance Nail. If these reports (yes, plural) are true, there will be many interested spectators as these events unfold. Whispers in the hall of the JAG are wondering if Dean Nail will “do a Doty” and try to cover her to the end – his and hers.

Stay tuned.
