

GH Chatter

The “planagate” saga at USM is often a topic of conversation among CoBers and USMers alike. According to the chatter, those who missed the Dec-08 USM faculty senate meeting should take a listen to the podcast. Doing so promises to provide a clearer picture of just who new provost Robert Lyman is, and just how gullible some of USM’s faculty appear to be.

The recent chatter about Jon Carr’s “revise and resubmit” raises has been of interest to some. It has been stated recently that, when discussing his research with co-authors and the like, Carr would often be out in the main corridor(s) of JAG speaking loudly through his cell so that as many as possible could hear him. Good stuff.

GH Chatter is a series at USMNEWS that provides a glimpse at what CoB students, and sometimes CoB faculty, are discussing throughout the corridors of Joseph Greene Hall and beyond.
