

"Good B-School Deans Don't"

Good b-school deans don't resign in April. Good b-school deans don't resign after being notified of a forthcoming negative review from AACSB. Finally, good b-school deans most assuredly don't resign in April after being notified of a forthcoming negative review from AACSB.

I have a sneaking suspicion that former CoB dean, Harold Doty, is not telling potential b-school suitors that he resigned as CoB dean in April (of 2007). I also don't believe Doty is telling them anything about the CoB's AACSB problems under his leadership. Finally, I have absolutely no doubts that Doty is telling them all that he was, and still is, a good b-school dean.

The academic world needs to know that D. Harold Doty resigned as CoB dean in April (of 2007). Academe should be told that Doty resigned after being notified of a forthcoming negative review from AACSB. Finally, academicians the world over should, and will, know that Doty is anything but a good b-school dean.
