

Harold Doty & the Rejection Factory

Former CoB Dean Harold Doty's efforts to land a new Dean's assignment is becoming one of the more interesting stories being covered by reporters here at USMNEWS.NET. As long-time readers are aware, a number of colleges and universities have already sent Doty's application packing. And, as the sample in Table 1 below indicates, these colleges and universities come in all sorts of sizes and shapes.

Table 1
Colleges and Universities Rejecting Doty's Candidacy

College/University	Comments
University of North Florida	Master's Level University -- #43 in the South
University of North Texas	National University -- Tier IV
University of South Florida	National University -- Tier III
Clemson University	National University -- 67th in the nation (Tier II)
Boise State University	Master's Level University -- #48 in the West

Note: Details about the institutions above comes from U.S. News & World Report's America's Best Colleges 2008.

As Table 1 above indicates, Doty's latest rejection -- from Boise State University -- came from arguably the worst school in the list (of five). As such, Doty's "luck" seems to be getting worse, not better.
