

Is Dr. Saunders' Plane Worth Your Job?

The first numbers for Dr. Saunders' airplane have been compiled. According to University's records, the first year's cash outflows for the airplane (N777AQ) are $313,745.10. (We welcome Dr. Saunders' interpretation of data provided in USM's response to a Mississippi Open Records Request.) If you or a colleague received a terminal contract recently, how many faculty jobs could have been saved in exchange for her airplane? What other costs is President Saunders hiding?
