A Look at CoB Google Scholar Cites by Eleventh-Best Source

Several reports here at USMNEWS.net have examined Google Scholar cites scores for CoB faculty. These have generally aggregated all of each faculty's GS cites and ranked the CoB's faculty from first to last on the basis of an aggregate score. Like previous reports, this report ranks CoB faculty, from first to last, based on GS cites. However, it does so using only GS cites counts from each faculty's eleventh-best publication (i.e., each faculty's eleventh most heavily-cited paper). As such, this report is a follow-up to "Cites & Sounds," "Second Best," "Is the Third One a Charm?," "Fourth Down," "Five for Fighting," "On Your Six," "Lucky Seven?," "Behind the Eight Ball," "Nine (Google Scholar) Lives" and "Been 10". Table 1 below provides the new ranking, along with the year and outlet contributing the cites for each CoB faculty.

Note: The yellow highlighted entries represent the CoB's professorship holders.

There are a number of interesting results in Table 1 above. There is a 63-way tie for 5th place, all at 0 cites. This means that fully 92.6% of CoB faculty do not have an eleventh paper that has garnered any GS cites. This is up from the 32.8% of CoB faculty who do not have a cite to any paper. Interestingly, only one of the CoB's distinguished professors has an eleventh paper that has garnered one citation or more. With this latest installment, both MGT and ACC are out, leaving only the MIS portion of the SAIS to contend with two parts of EFIB.

The series ends with this stalemate, and we declare EFIB the department winner and the EFIB's James Lindley as the GS king of the CoB.
