

Martha's Podium

An Editorial Cartoon Series from USMNEWS.net

I realize that I was just named provost of our fine university only five days ago, but I have been very hard at work since then. I really want our students to ride all the rides. I also want them to realize that we have a fine university here. In that spirit, I have entered into a multi-year agreement with a local consulting firm to develop what we're calling a "core campaign" to heighten the visibility of UWF. That firm has been working at breakneck speed since last week to launch this campaign, and I am happy to unveil the first piece of it here for you this morning. So, members of the UWF family, I give you . . .

Martha's Podium is an editorial cartoon series from USMNEWS.net that borrows from cartoons that appeared in The Student Print during the Martha Saunders administration of USM.