Can Mary Research?

A Review of Mary Morgan Anderson's Research Over the Past Five Years

A recent review of USM's School of Accountancy's web page revealed a great deal about the apparently non-existent research record of Associate Professor Mary Morgan Anderson. As previously reported, Anderson is best known for her activities as a "slipstream artist" because Anderson's work is almost exclusively the result of her relationship with Ted Englebrecht, Anderson's mentor at Louisiana Tech University. With Englebrecht having apparently cut Anderson completely out of his research to the extent of not publishing with her since mid-2008, the question is what Anderson is publishing either solo or with others.

Mary Morgan Anderson

The SofA updated its research page to reflect publications from 2010 - 2015. Each publication and presentation, including those co-authored with others in the SofA, are neatly listed in alphabetical order.

What publications did Anderson publish over a five year period? According to the SofA webpage the answer is zero. usmnews.net can't help but wonder when Anderson will be placed on post tenure review for her academic shortcomings.
