

Perks for Buds XIV

Ed?

Ed? Dr. Nissan? Are you back yet? Your contract period started. Are you still in England? Is George Carter teaching your classes again? Does he never tire of it? I guess that is what co-authors do, huh? Did you take leave time for your missed days? You know if – if – you were teaching somewhere else while you were supposed to be teaching here, that is double-dipping that is not supposed to happen. Maybe no one ever cared before, but with a new president, provost, and dean, someone may care now. It is not just a George decision. It absolutely should not be a perk for buds.
