You wanted to see me, President Allrides?
.. Is that Dean Toady?

That's correct.

You were called here to see and explain this, Dr. Treelung. What you are watching was taped last evening. Copies are already all over our campus.

Here's what you need to know, Dr. Treelung. Dean Toady borrowed my jet two days ago to get to an AACSB meeting in Boston. Early yesterday morning, he had the pilots take him to Palm Harbor College for a job interview. It seems they have an opening for business dean down there. This side trip was, of course, a secret.

This is quite disturbing, Madame President.

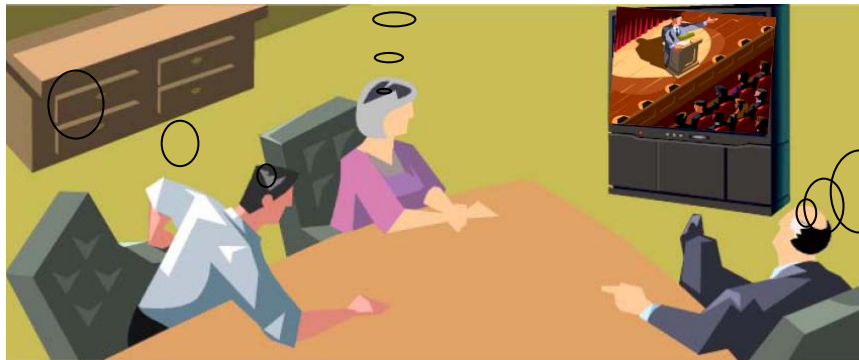

He is explaining to them how to siphon off the proceeds of a dormant endowed chair so that they can be used for travel by certain favored faculty. I wonder what those people there were thinking.

What is he saying to them? Is it what it sounds like?

Maybe this is all out of context. We should wait for his explanation for everything.

Oh my

Despite how bad this looks now, Madame President, I think Dr. Treelung's suggestion is prudent.
