

The Toadies

Let's get started. First, Cynthia is sick, and Teddy is teaching tonight at the inner city campus. I called this special meeting tonight because we have to vote on Dr. Ramivoozi's P&T dossier.

What's the rush? The dossiers weren't due until this morning. And, we have until the 15th to rule on them.

We have lots of things to get done for the college, so we need to dispose of this. Dr. Treelung and I studied this dossier closely this afternoon.

But I haven't even opened the dossier yet.

Dr. Nearydom is correct, Red. There is much to do, and Dean Toady wants our decision on his desk by the morning. The department and chair ruled on this earlier today.

Sorry, Red, but there's no time for that now. Dr. Treelung and I have another meeting to get to.

It's a good dossier, Red. And, Dr. Ramivoozi's record will get even better in time.

But I heard he has only two publications and bad teaching evaluations.

Who told you that?! . . . Let's vote, Dr. Treelung!

That's two "yes," and one "abstain." I'll forward this decision to Dean Toady tonight.

I better not find out that what I heard is true!

Whatever you are going to do, you can't look in the dossier. Its contents are confidential to anyone who does not have a future vote. Your vote is in.
