

Town Meeting Highlights:

Everything is on the Table . . .

. . . except my airplane. I “made” the money for the lease-purchase by cutting administrators when I got here. I know that every other item does not count like that in the budget, but surely the President has some privileges. The airplane is for essential University travel; that term is defined solely by me. Disregard Southwest Airlines has $99 flights, this is efficient. That is what Southern Miss is about. Ultimately, the airplane is off the table because I said so. We are all in this together: as I fly in my plane, secure in my $350,000 salary, I will be thinking about each and every one of you and how important you are to me and our beloved University. To the Top!
